FRIDAY.....MARCH 4, 1881.

President Hayes formally called upon President-elect Garfield last Wednesday.

President Hayes has issued a proclamation convening the Senate in special session March 4th, at noon.

Two little girls in Manchester, Vermont, died suddenly a few days ago, they having been poisoned by eating canned meat.

C. L. Foster, of Virginia city, last Tuesday evening, while on roller skates, fell and severly hurt himself; injuring his spine, until he is quite helpless.

There is a curious bill before the Wisconsin Legislature which puts heavy restrictions upon the removal of railroad car shops from any city or village of the State.

President-elect Garfield, upon his arrival in Washington last Tuesday, was received with a reception speech from Bob Ingersoll, the noted Infidel, who is one of the Committee on Inaugural Ceremonies.

The body of a young man was found on the railroad track, about half a mile south of Mountain View, on March 2d, having fallen from the night freight train while stealing a ride. His head was almost severed and his body mangled. He was aged about sixteen years.

Conkling is credited with having said that "the next best thing to being born great is to have been born in Ohio." Conkling, by his strut, manner and speech, seems always to be conscious that he possesses in an eminent degree that one advantage that is ahead of Ohioan nativity.

Last night, while both houses of the Minnesota Legislation were in session at the State Capitol at St. Paul, the building took fire and was consumed, causing a loss to the State of $100,000. The fire spread so rapidly that some members had to escape by ladders and received slight burns. The records were saved in the vault.

A man named Collins got into an altercation with some tramps, at Wilcox, A. T., last Tuesday. Collins shot one of them, when another of the gang shot Collins. The tramp was shot through the body and Collins through the neck. Both are still alive. The balance of the gang of tramps are under arrest and confined in a box car.

An immigrant's wife went away from a hotel in Portland, Oregon, the other day, leaving in her room a skirt with $3,820 sewed up in the lining. She discovered her loss when far up the Columbia, and telegraphed back to a policeman, who luckily found the skirt and its hidden treasure. Women are the worst money-carriers in existence.

Two Chicago footpads made a mistake a few nights ago. They held up a Melford Paffer, who took their pistols away from them, shot one of them in two places, gave the other a severe drubbing and marched them off towards the police station. However, after proceeding a short distance he let them go. The wounded man consulted a doctor, who says he cannot recover.

A man with his face and body covered with an eruption of smallpox in its most advanced stage rode in a street car from the Chambers Street Hospital to Senteral Station, Mulberry street, and pushed his way through the crowds in the different departments, searching for the Sanitary Superintendent's office. There can be no idea formed as to how many he may have communicated the contagion.

In Milbridge, Me., at the house of Captain Means, there is a little girl nine years old, who comes from one of the Cannibal Islands of the Pacific. An American vessel called there for water, and the natives brought the child to sell to the captain for his dinner, offering to prepare her properly. The captain bought her, but said he would prefer to kill his own meat, and so brought her home. She still believes she will be killed and eaten, and when strangers enter the house she clings to Mrs. Means, and begs not to be taken away.

The Bulletin this afternoon will publish an interview with a reliable gentleman, a passenger by the barkentine Ella, which arrived yesterday from Honolulu. He reports a deplorable condition of affairs there. Smallpox is epidemic. Many houses are quarantined, and no one is allowed to enter or leave the city, and intercommunication between the islands is stopped. The city is in a very bad sanitary condition. It has not a single sewer within its limits, and the ground is honeycombed with vaults which have not been cleaned out in half a century.

The Bi-Metallic Standard.

If the declarations of Mr. Warner, of Ohio, author of the silver bill, be reliable, the Monetary Conference, which is to be held in Paris in April, will be likely to be numerously attended; that is, many of the Governments of the world will be pretty well represented. The Latin Union will be represented, and the other nations that participated in the Conference of three years ago, together with Spain, will be represented therein. The two main propositions which will be made to the Conference are, the unlimited coinage at the rate of fifteen and a half of silver to one of gold, and secondly, silver coins to be unlimited legal tender. It is not proposed to interfere with the right or customs of the different nations, as to the denomination and size of their coins, but they can be recoined in the Mints of the nation to which they may be taken, the recoining to be free of cost, at the rate of fifteen and a half to one. The appropriation for paying the costs of the Commission which this country will send to the Conference is included in the Sundry Civil Appropriation bill. Mr. Evarts, it is suggested, will be at the head of the Commission. It is a belief with many that the Monetary Commission will bring about an agreement eventuating in the adoption or return to the bi-metallic system. There seems rather a tendency in that direction, but the proposition will meet with decided opposition.

An Acquisition to the Republic.

Sensible monarchists of the different royal factions of France are beginning to discover that all hopes for the overthrow of the Republic are idle, and one by one give in their adhesion to it. The latest notable acquisition is M. Dugue de la Fauconnerie, a Bonapartist of tried fidelity, and formerly editor of a Bonapartist organ named the Ordre. He is now serving as a Deputy, representing the Bonaparte interest. He intends resigning, and then stand for a re-election, to test whether his constituents approve his course. He explained himself to them in a speech, as follows: He said that the Republic had proved a success; that to ignore its repeated ratifications by the country is absurd; that the Prince Imperial's death has restored him full liberty of action; that he declines to agitate for the mere sake of agitation; and that such adhesions as his own will strengthen the Moderate Republicans against the Extremists. The Republic is now the only form of government, and, so far from being a a renegade, he claims to be consistent with all his antecedents in deferring to the will of the nation. If re-elected, he will continue to defend the order, liberty, and social conservation essential to every government; but if his constituents wish to try to overturn the Republic without knowing what would succeed it, let them find another representative; he himself is not the man for such a task.

Joke on Orth.

It is told of Representative Orth, of Indiana, that he is of German descent, and is very proud of his ability to speak the German language. When he became United States Minister at Vienna, he thought it would be a delicate compliment to the Emperor to deliver his address, on his presentation at court, in German. When the day of his presentation arrived, he was ready with his address, and delivered it with what he thought was great success. A short time afterward a well-known American, who was in Vienna, was presented to the Emperor. The Emperor spoke in very complimentary terms of Mr. Orth, and then asked: "What was the dialect in which Mr. Orth delivered his address? I know, of course, that it was not English, and I thought that I detected some faint traces of the Teutonic tongue in some of the words."

THE ROTTEN STATE OF DENMARK.—According to the Carson Times of Wednesday evening, a degree of financial putridity now ermeates the nerve centers of Carson City far exceeding the proverbial rottenness of the State of Denmark; it "smells to heaven." The Times takes up the corpse tenderly and handles it with care, as follows: "Carson is financially rotten at present, and there is no one man who can safely accuse another of lack of coin. Too much like the pot calling the kettle black.

What is the weight of an average dozen of eggs is the mingled mathematical and economic problem which now exercises the minds of the Maine legislators. The hens in that region of country lay eggs of such a diversity of size that the old method of selling by count has become a delusion and snare.

The smallpox has again broken out in Virginia city. Mr. Cohn, the well known clothing dealer was stricken down with it last Wednesday. The last case previous to this, in that city, was developed on the 5th of last January, nearly two months ago. Mr. Cohn has no idea how he contracted the disease.

NEWS NOTES.

When a pretty Irish girl is stolen away they suspect some Boycotter.

A sick man is considered out of danger when the doctor discontinues his visits.

Parnell is not in London, but still lingers in Prris, where he will probably stay for some time.

Elko asbestos is now used almost exclusively on the Comstock for covering steam drums and pipes.

At Crab Creek, Washington Territory, all the cattle are perishing, and the stockmen are about ruined.

Fall River, Mass., is a sort of headquarters for strikes. Another is threatened there. Both sides seem resolute.

A mother wanted to have her twin children christened "Cherubim and Seraphim," because "they continually do cry."

Test suits have been brought against the city of New Orleans for damages to private property by reason of the late overflow.

A Boston physician advertises for a wife who knows less than he does. Some men are always reaching out after the unattainable.

The Winter has been the most trying one known to the present generation in "the West." A train in Minnesota was snowed in for nearly two weeks.

The Sutro tunnel is within 350 feet of a connection with the Yellow Jacket mine, and when connection is made drainage will be given to the mines as far south as the Belcher.

A cablegram from Patrick Egan, Treasurer of the Irish Land League, praises this country as "the greater Ireland across the sea," and thoughtfully adds: Wire remittances to my credit."

The tempest in a teapot which the National banks tried to create over the Refunding bill is over, and those people who tried to create a money panic have for that wicked act got themselves disliked.

It is said that most of the new Senators who will take their seats in the next Congress are small men. One of them, Senator-elect Mahone, of Virginia, is five feet one inch high, and weighs just ninety-eight pounds.

S. B. Axtell, an original Democrat, and who, in 1869-70, represented in part California in Congress, has held office under Republican Administrations almost ever since, and is now nominated by the President Receiver of an Idaho Land office.

Governor Blackburn, of Kentucky, recently issued one hundred and fifty pardons in one day, and followed it up the next day by sending out one hundred and forty more. They were of persons convicted of "regulating" which is a Kentucky survival of Kukluxism.

Last Sunday week the financial statement of Talmage's church was read to the congregation. It showed that of a total income of $30,000, but $700 had been given to the poor. Talmage is the man who discourses upon the remarkable falling off in Christianity and Christian feeling.

A herder was lately found in a deserted cabin in the Judith valley, Montana, badly frozen. On being asked how long he had been there he said three days, but the dates go to prove that he had been there eleven days instead of three, and had been without food or fire for that length of time.

The back of Winter does not yet appear broken in the Southern and Western States. Snow storms are the order of the day, commencing in Texas and extending northward and westward to Chicago, where the fall was seven inches Friday, and fifteen inches in Iowa. It has been a severe Winter there.

A Hartford man, who owns a granite quarry, has conceived the patriotic notion of quarrying and erecting a genuine American obelisk that would take the conceit out of the Egyptian importation. He is willing that the Government should take a hand in the job, and only asks one million dollars as a bonus for his trouble. It would be difficult to find so public-spirited a citizen outside of Connecticut.

Oatmeal, as is well known, is a food of great strength and nutrition, having claims to be better known and more widely used than it is at present. Of much service as a brain food, it contains phosphorus enough to keep a man doing an ordinary amount of brain work in health and vigor. All medical authorities unite in the opinion that eaten with milk it is a perfect food, having all requisites for the development of the system.

There are a good many comical things about the anti-Chinese crusade, serious as it is in the main. When we see exultant notices of the fact that Chinamen have been refused naturalization, we always think of the many times our local orators and writers have used as an argument for the exclusion of the Chinese that they did not "come to stay" that they had "no sympathy with our institutions," that they "never desired citizenship," etc.

Unlucky Number.

It is seldom that a given number can be found to repeat itself in so singular and significant a manner as in the following case, as discovered by the San Francisco Examiner: "On the 19th of October George A. Wheeler strangled his sister-in-law, Adella J. Tilson, under circumstances unparalleled in the annals of crime on this coast. On the 19th day of November he was indicted by the Grand Jury. On the 19th day of December was arraigned for his crime. On the 19th of January he was convicted of murder in the first-degree, and on the 19th day of February he was sentenced to be hanged on Tuesday, the 19th day of April, by the neck until he was dead." Evidently 19 is an unfortunate and unlucky number with Wheeler.

A Grateful Robin.

A boy twelve years old, in New Hampshire, had a little robin with a broken wing fall into his hand. He took it home and cared for it in a vacant attic till it was able to fly, when he took it out in a covered basket a mile away and set it free in the woods. The next Spring the same bird, with a lop in its wing, came and pecked at the window of the little boy's house. A shelf was placed outside in the middle of a window. Here she and her mate soon built their nest and filled it with four little eggs. When the boy or his mother looked through the window pane the robin did not stir; but when a stranger approached she flew away.

In the House of Commons Tuesday Harcourt, Home Secretary, said he had received a threatening telegram signed "John Devoy," but did not intend to make representations in regard to the circumstance to the American Government, as such representations might give rise to international controversy. Devoy, from a British convict, became an American citizen. As long as he and his confederates, the leaders of the Land League, are content to remain beyond the sea and on the other side of the Atlantic, we will not interfere with them. If they come over we might have to pay them some attention.

Twenty years ago Stephen A. Douglas stood on the eastern portico of the capitol at Washington holding Abraham Lincoln's hat, while he delivered his inaugural message. Those papers which think it strange that General Hancock should attend the inauguration of Garfield may reflect on the course of Senator Douglas.

Cause of Heat in Mines.

[From the N. Y. Mining News.]

An opinion has long prevailed upon the parts of many persons that the extreme heat in the lower levels of the Comstock mines, of Nevada, is solely due to their great depth. It is an established fact that the heat existing there is so great in places that the miners can work only in ten and fifteen minute shifts, and then in a state of comparative nudity. A scientist, who has given a great deal of careful thought to the subject, claims from the deductions he has made that this heat is alone the result of chemical action, such as the presence of limestone, which decomposes rapidly when attacked by carbonic acid gas and the action of water, qualities which are ever present in the mines. The decomposition causes the generation and exudation of intense heat, which, being largely confined in circumscribed space, greatly affects the comfort and convenience of the delvers of the deep, whilst they are engaged in dislodging the argentiferous ores. The hot springs in Colorado and other States acquire their heat through a similar action, and not by reason of depth; and this fact goes far toward substantiating the theory advanced. Mines of greater depth have been worked in Europe without the inconvenience, of such intense heat being experienced, and indications exist that mines in Old Mexico have been worked down far lower than those on the Comstock lode.

A Galveston widow is about to marry her fifth husband. Her pastor rebuked her for contemplating matrimony so soon again. "Well, I just want you to understand that if the Lord keeps on taking them, I will, too," was the spirited reply.

FRIDAY.....MARCH 4, 1881.

TOWN AND COUNTY.

Gone and Left Us.

The Enterprise of March 3d. says: "Charles F. Moeller, one of the new proprietors of the Steamboat Springs property, evening before last made a raid on this city and carried off a bride in the person of Mrs. Ella Hickox. The twain were made one by Bishop Whitaker. The Enterprise was remembered in a bountiful supply of champagne. There will now be a landlady at the Springs who will do the honors of the hotel in a manner worthy of a place of such great popular resort. The newly-wedded have the best wishes of a host of friends for their future health and prosperity." Ah, Charley, you rascal, have you thrown off on your old Humboldt friends? Has all of our fatherly advice been wasted on the desert air? Have you so soon forgotten the rules and by-laws of the Gander Club? Charley, Charley, Charley!

A Brief Record.

In the case of Douglass vs. Wooten in the District Court, Thursday, the jury rendered a verdict in favor of the plaintiff. The suit grew out of the sale of personal property belonging to plaintiff by Wooten as Constable, upon an execution isued out of the Justice Court, at Franktown; it being claimed that the pretended judgment upon which the execution was issued was void as the Justice's docket did not show any legal suit, trial, or judgment; the case not being entitled, and the judgment consisting simply of the words "judgment rendered." A rather brief record, we should think.

Inauguration Day.

To-day is Inauguration day. Hayes steps down and out, and Garfield walks in. Allowing for the difference of time between Reno and Washington, the inaugural address will be delivered about 10 o'clock, our time. The ceremonies of to-day will be of far more imposing character than ever before known at any previous occasion of a like nature. Garfield commences his administration with the good will of the entire country, and our great hope is that at its close the same feeling toward him and his efforts will merit a continuance of the good feeling, and a hearty response of approval.

Which Was It?

When Sam Davis, of the Appeal, had been a father of a bouncing girl, for a whole half day, he set down and wrote a very affecting leader for his paper on the subject, "What shall we do with our girls." We were not aware that Sam had more than one girl. Perhaps, however, he was only anticipating the future; though many think that in a fit of abstraction he thoughtlessly referred to another somewhere not down in the bill. Which was it?

Decided to Remain.

It will be seen by reference to our 50 cent column that Wm. N. Knox has decided to remain in Reno, and not go to the northern country, as heretofore intending. He will continue in the insurance business. All the companies for which he is agent are first-class. He having the authority to issue policies, persons insuring with him will get their policies on the day of application.

The fall of the hammers in the hands of the presiding officers of the State Legislature was distinctly heard in Reno, last night, at 12 o'clock. The concusion must have been fearful in Carson.

The Amateur Quadrille Band will give another of their social dances. The dancing season will soon be over, so all those who expect to compete with the Carson hoppists in dancing the racquet should be on hand, especially the gentlemen. The boys furnish as good music to dance to as can be found anywhere. Remember, next Thursday, at the Nevada Theater.

Sheriff Walker paid into the County Treasury yesterday the sum of $169 as fees received during the month of February; and the clerk paid in the sum of $483,05 for the same time.

C. S. Varien has gone to Winnemucca to attend the suit of the Wild Goose vs. the Bullion Company. He is on the defense; and the case is being tried before Judge Rising.

The family of Nicholas McKernan were in town, last evening, looking for him. He had again wandered away from home in a temporary fit of mild form of insanity.

E. A. Allen from Carson City is opening his new book and stationery store, in the room formerly occupied by McClelland and Simpson, on Commercial Row.

G. W. Mapes is in town settling up his business preparatory to going out on his ranch to reside.

Celebration.

This being Inauguration day, it will be celebrated in Reno by the payment of a novel bet made during the late Presidential campagne, between Nick Hammersmith and Frank Kaeintz; Nick betting that Garfield would be the next President of the United States, Kaeintz betting that Hancock would be. The stakes were that the losing party should wheel the winner, in a wheelbarrow around town, without spilling him out. The procession will start at four o'clock, P. M., from the front of Nick's barber shop, headed by Nick seated in the barrow holding an American flag in one hand, and blowing a tin horn, held in the other, and Frank harnessed between the shafts of the vehicle. Maj. Hoffman follows in his beer wagon with a 20 gallon keg of beer, which he will dispense to the thirsty pedestrians; then follows Indians on horseback, and squaws afoot, citizens, boys and dogs in their order. The route will be up Commercial Row to Sierra street; down Sierra to Second; down Second to Virginia; up Virginia to Commercial Row; thence to the place of starting. The crowd must furnish their own music, and lungs. After these exercises the oration of the day will be delivered by Charles Queen, and the whole performance to conclude by Nick's treating the whole town at the Arcade Hotel.

There was a report on the street last evening that L. L. Crockett's residence, in this place, was burglariously entered about eight o'clock P. M. A man was seen to jump out through a window, smashing it. He was pursued but escaped. It is thought he was an Italian. We could not learn whether or not anything was stolen.

Luna and Venus were in conjunction last evening. At one time the star nearly touched the southern point of the moon. Many people were gazing at the beautiful sight.

NEWS OF THE MORNING.

The United States currency outstanding at this date is $362,585,258.

To-day the political parties will begin the work of making capital for the campaign of 1884.

Congress passed the Funding bill last Wednesday, and President Hayes vetoed it on Thursday, yesterday.

At Albuquerque, N. M. Wednesday, a miner, in self-defense, shot and killed the dealer of a monte game.

Mrs. Elizabeth Percival was shot dead at Galveston, Texas, last Wednesday night by her divorced husband.

The coinage for February at the United States Mint at Philadelphia was 4,278,660 pieces, valued at $7,337,900.

A local option law was defeated in the Indiana State Senate Wednesday. A similar law will, it is said be passed by the Delaware Senate.

Susan W. Fletcher and Charles Morton have been indicted in London for defrauding Juliet A. Davis by pretended spiritual manifestations.

A telegram from Chili announces that Dr. Francisco Calderon has been elected Provisional President of Peru. Peace negotiations will probably be resumed.

The Orange Free States Volksraad have dissolved, after authorizing President Brand to act as arbiter between the Transvaal Boers and the British.

A dispatch from Mount Prospect to the London Telegraph says the Boers have sent a message to the British camp condoling with Lady Colley in her bereavement.

In the House of Commons yesterday, on going into Committee of Supply, on the army estimates, Parnell moved that the Boers, by their gallant resistance have proved the earnestness of their desire for independence and earned the right to its restoration.

A Pittsburg dispatch says the miners of the Connellsville Coke region struck Wednesday for an advance of five cents per wagon for mining coal and ten cents for drawing coke. The strike is quite extensive, affecting several thousand men. Nearly all of the works have suspended.

The joint resolution of the State Legislature proposing an amendment to the Constitution to allow women the right of suffrage was lost yesterday. The bill to prevent the employment of fighters in mines, also Assembly bill No. 126, to tax the net proceeds of mines, were lost. Senate bill to regulate the sale of opium was passed; also bill to provide for the re-compilation of the Statutes of Nevada.

In Virginia City, Wednesday afternoon, the dress of Elizabeth Curley, the 17-year old daughter of Michael J. Curley, caught fire, the result being that she narrowly escaped being burned to death. She was sent out to the County Hospital. County Physician Bergstein says there is no danger of her dying, as only the cuticle is burned off except in a few places, where the true skin suffered. The girl is in considerable pain. Her mother says she deliberately set herself on fire.

This standard article is compounded with the greatest care.
Its effects are as wonderful and satisfactory as ever.
It restores gray or faded hair to its youthful color.
It removes all eruptions, itching and dandruff; and the scalp by its use becomes white and clean.
By its tonic properties it restores the capillary glands to their normal vigor, preventing baldness, and making the hair grow thick and strong.
As a dressing nothing has been found so effectual or desirable.
Dr. A. A. Hayes, State Assayer of Massachusetts, says of it: "I consider it the best preparation for its intended purposes."

BUCKINGHAM'S DYE,

FOR THE WHISKERS.

This elegant preparation may be relied on to change the color of the beard from gray or any other undesirable shade, to brown or black, at discretion. It is easily applied, being in one preparation, and quickly and effectually produces a permanent color which will neither rub nor wash off.
